

PRESENT CONTINUOUS exercises
+ Present Simple vs. Present Continuous
Gramatyka dla prawa i biznesu cz. 2

1. Build Present Continuous sentences with the words below:

a. why / you / go / home / now?

b. your company / plan / open / a new office?

c. someone / wait / for you / in the corridor.

2. Create the Present Participle form (verb + “ing”)

a) take – _____

b) presuppose – _____

c) sit – _____

d) begin – _____

e) imply – _____

f) say – _____

g) stop – _____

h) listen – _____

3. Complete the examples with a correct form – Present Simple or Present Continuous:

a. Normally, I (1)_____ (work) 8 hours a day, but recently, as we have an important project, I (2)_____ (work) 10 hours a day or more.

b. Hello, Paul. Yes, I'm in the UK. I (3)_____ (stay) at the Rosewood Hotel.

c. What (4)_____ (you / think) about our new manager?

- d. I spent the last couple of years looking at the science of human motivation, particularly the dynamics of extrinsic motivators and intrinsic motivators. And I (5)_____ (tell) you, it's not even close. If you (6)_____ (look) at the science, there is a mismatch between what science (7)_____ (know) and what business (8)_____ (do).

source of the excerpt: TED talks: https://www.ted.com/talks/dan_pink_the_puzzle_of_motivation/transcript#t-62994

- e. And what (9)_____ (worry) me, as we stand here in the rubble of the economic collapse, is that too many organizations (10) _____ their decisions, their policies about talent and people, based on assumptions that are outdated, unexamined, and rooted more in folklore than in science.

source of the excerpt: TED talks: https://www.ted.com/talks/dan_pink_the_puzzle_of_motivation/transcript#t-62994

4. Translate the following sentences into English using Present Simple / Present Continuous tense:

- a. Czy to należy do ciebie?

- b. Nie przeszkadzaj mi, proszę. Próbuję się skupić.

- c. Strony określają następujące adresy do korespondencji:

- d. Nasza firma rośnie.

- e. Ile czynszu płacisz miesięcznie?

- f. O której planujesz się jutro spotkać?

- g. Kodeks reguluje stosunki cywilnoprawne między osobami fizycznymi i osobami prawnymi.
